FEATURED PROJECT: Family Prayer Garden

Nestled in the foothills of Northern California, this prayer garden—constructed for a private residence began as a vision and was this family's way of giving thanks to God for "everything he has given us..." For the Ferguson family, it just so happens that some of their loved ones are buried back east, they would use this garden as a special place to remember them. With the help of Laddie & his Natural Rock Formations team, the Ferguson's dream became a reality.

The crew took a special interest in the project, embracing it as if it were their very own, "their love, enthusiasm, & integrity for the project meant a tremendous amount to Collette & myself"
